

Georgia Philological Association ANNUAL MEETING AND CALL FOR PAPERS:

The eighteenth annual meeting of the Georgia Philological Association (GPA) will be held virtually on May 19-20, 2023. We invite proposals for session topics, panel discussions, and scholarly papers in English on any subjects relating to literature, language, composition, history, philosophy, translation, the general humanities, interdisciplinary studies, and pedagogy. Reading times for individual paper presentations are limited to 15 minutes. Presenters may submit longer or more complex versions (8,000 words maximum) to be considered for publication in the Journal of the Georgia Philological Association. All presenters must be members of the GPA. The deadline for receipt of registration fees is April 30, 2023. Conference registration fees are $10.00 for students and $30.00 for all others. Graduate students are eligible to apply for the $100 Vicki Hill Memorial Graduate Recognition Award given to the graduate student who presents the most successful paper at the conference. Please submit 300-word abstracts for conference presentations by March 17, 2023, to Dr. Lorraine Dubuisson, Middle Georgia State University, Department of English, at lorraine.dubuisson@mga.edu. Please visit our website for information on submitting to the journal: <https://www.mga.edu/arts-letters/english/gpa/index.php>.
